Dear Heather,

Although The Service Companies (through numerous iterations) and The California Club have had a long-standing, mutually beneficial business relationship, it is with a heavy heart that I write to regretfully inform you of The California Club's desire to terminate its relationship with The Service Companies as our temporary staff provider.

This difficult business decision was largely based on The Service Companies' inability to provide us with Staff when needed over the past several months. While I fully recognize the ongoing problem all companies are experiencing in trying to find trained staff, this situation has put us in a position to look elsewhere as our Members continue to expect and should expect the best service regardless of the existing labor market.

While our agreement states the need for a 30-day notice, given your firm's inability to provide us with the appropriate staffing levels, I am requesting immediately termination of the contract.

We wish all the very best to the individual members of the deployment team who continued to try to serve us, even in the face of adversity.

Sincerely,

Peter J. Schaub
General Manager
