I'm in Pomona. Omg!! I totally thought it was for Sunday.

I know what I responded too. I'm saying I got the dates crossed

This will have to be marked as a NO CALL NO SHOW you need to keep better track of your bookings moving forward please we have had attendance issues with you in the past and this just cannot continue this is your final warning and we really look forward to more successful Staffing

We also send out shift reminders and encourage you to please call the 800 number immediately if you ever discover that you've been scheduled for something that you cannot longer work
