Hey Marlene, I just got booked for a gig this weekend. My agent just informed me last night. I have a million things to do to prepare and I regret to inform you I won't be able to work my shift today. I apologize for the lack of 24 hour notice!

I also have to cancel my Sunday shift for filming

Hello, because you did not follow proper protocol for calling off, you have been marked as a no show. You cannot text or email to call off a shift, as they get lost, like this one did, and we may not see them in time to let the client know. I will remove you from Sunday's shift.
