Hello Theo,

I am aware that you have been ill, but at this current point and time you have not been communicating your absences, and it is a requirement that you communicate with me, and/or the Stripe managers. This email will count as a warning, and we do require that moving forward you need to reach out to let us know whats going on. Since you have been out for more than a week at this time due to illness, please provide doctors documentation to excuse your absences.

Best,

Jaime Barnhart
Operations Manager
