VALIDATE: 1) sender email suffix logical?; 2) language spelling/context appropriate? consider clicking if; immediately following a meeting/discussion. Research further if; 1) sent out of the blue even from a trusted person; 2) suspicious link content. SUSPICIOUS: create new message to sender, do not reply, and seek validation if suspicious. Trusted sender? add them to our trusted list, <https://tsc.fyi/TrustedSender>

Good morning, it's been 12 days since I've been cancelled and still don't know why. This is complete BS. I'm not even being sent other job listings so I can work. I would appreciate a response to this email as well as an answer as to what I said that was so viscous. All this information should've been disclosed before I was even terminated.

Which they should've had before my shifts were canceled. This is a wrongful termination. I know I still have rights even as a temporary employee

Yes I called chef Tony i mentioned that. He wouldn't speak to me he told me to ask my questions to you.

An investigation like I did something criminal? I didn't make a viscous comment never even had as much as a disagreement with anyone there.

Hi Brandon,

They are still doing an investigation. When I know I will email you.
Also the client mentioned you called them. Once a client cancels you; you cannot contacts them.
