I had clarified that it was for today 6/2. The confirmation email that was sent also stated it was for today.

MH

I apologize. I never recieved that message. I was at an Instawork shift yesterday so I did not read the email.

I saved it as 6/3

Michelle

The confirmation email should be read thoroughly as the pertain the information about the job including date and time. It stated the job was for today. This is considered a no show.

MH

I understand. Can we make sure the correct information is sent so I don't accrue any additional absences?

Michelle

As far as my text show I did correct the error and the confirmation that was sent to you had the correct date. Please make sure you are thoroughly reading all confirmation emails.

MH

I also would like to know who I can send a copy of these messages to for records

I understand. It was an error on both our part. I
