Hello Jaime, I would love to but unfortunately I have to be in an immigration court this week. I'm a guardian of a minor and I just got a mail about that his case has been taken up. My apologies, I would love to take the job, but I have to be honest I might be requesting days off frequently and I think that would be not ok

Hi Romeo,

⋮
Apologies for the delayed response. To clarify, you are saying due to the explanation above, you are no longer interested in the position correct?
Sorry I just want to make sure I understand
