Hi Payton,

I'm sorry to hear that you are in pain, and I hope you feel better.

Please keep in mind that this would be the third attendance related issue this week, and today specifically would be your third call out while still under 90 days. As discussed previously, attendance is a big factor, especially during your first 90 days and can lead to your assignment being cancelled at Stripe. I will be logging this in your file as a documented warning to show that I have notified you of this.
