was not in the event for the farmer market. The one event for the gold
course I sent you a lot of message to sign in
and you always put me every year every year. I don't know what happened to you guys
don't have that contract Where you pass
because 27 I don't

Can you let me know
what's going on?

Hi Brooke,
unfortunately the client requested not to have you work any of their events. You're still employed with the company we just
cannot have you go back to any of BTS
assignments. Thank you

Ok can ask why? I needed the rezon?

needed the rezon?

It seems like you work with different chefs at different events and they all coincided that your performance and attitude towards them and the rest of the team was not up to their standards. Like I said, you're still in our system. We just cannot have you go back to BTS based on the clients request.

Isn't true is that they said

You're a good manager and a fair person and appreciate that you tell me that I'm still working with your company, but not with the BTS, Christine is not there anymore she was fare manager too bad that she's not working there anymore. Thank you have fun with your family.

Hi Brooke,
unfortunately this
hasn't been the only
client who's asked not to have you back at their venue. We've gotten the same
feedback over and over again. Your attitude is not something the
clients want on their teams. Your relationship with Minerva is not something we can take into consideration when assigning you to jobs,
and the clients can't favor anyone else

been about performance and attitude. As per the last shift, you did not work 7 hours straight. The timesheet reflects the right amount of hours. And as soon you notified me about the burnt we contacted the doctor so you could be seen. Just to clarify you were not fired, you're still employed through us if you'd like to pick up shifts. I just don't know how often we will have them. I'll let you know. Kindly, please managers didn't take their decisions based on that. Lastly, I've asked Jose about any comments he might've made about Minerva and he confirmed he has never "warned" you about anyone at the work place. Everything has been documented as well. We're really trying to keep third parties out of this and none of the other people you've mentioned have presented any concerns on the matter.
