

Hello Sam,

I just got off the phone with my doctors again, and they went over more details about my results and everything they found. Honestly, things with my health aren't looking the best right now, and it's something I really need to focus on and take seriously.

I know this is very last minute, but after speaking with my mother, I think it's best for me to return home to be with my family while I deal with everything. I don't know exactly what's ahead, but I know being close to them is what I need right now. To be honest, I'm pretty concerned and a little scared.

Because of this, I won't be able to return to the hospital or the service company. I want to sincerely thank you for everything for giving me another chance and believing in me when you didn't have to. That truly meant a lot. I'm so sorry to disappoint you with this decision, but I have to do what feels right for my health and well being.

Thank you again for your understanding and support.
