let me know that he was under the impression that he was a legend employee so as far as billing, would I still log those hours in under TEMP – TSC?

And please let me know if the incident resulted in him no longer being welcome back. He's not being very helpful when I asked him what happened. He just kept telling me to talk to the people that talk to him so I have no idea what happened other than "incident physical altercation" at this time

OK got it. Thank you and yes. Taj let me know that he was under the impression that he was a legend employee so as far as billing, would I still log tho...

Yes because he was working with us yesterday

He is DNR from Legends properties as it is their handbook that they can not work at legends properties with our partners
