Dear Hiring Manager,

Please accept this cover letter as an expression of interest for a Culinary position with your company. I have attached a copy of my resume and credentials for your review and consideration. I am extremely familiar with the sufficient requirements to be successful in this field of profession. I believe I possess the right combination of skills, communication, organizational leadership, cooking and management to further assist in the success of your kitchen. My passion and skills for cooking is what I can bring forth and will emulate to the culinary team.

Throughout my tenure career, I have held several culinary positions where I have trained staff, lead a team, and help with the productivity of prep, menus, recipes, events, p&l, weddings and banquets. I am currently seeking a position that can allow me the opportunity to demonstrate my skills. My love and passion for creativity, food and leadership is what I can bring forth. I continue to strive for perfection in every dish and I look forward to perhaps a great career alongside. I thank you for your time and patience and would welcome an opportunity to further discuss my potential.
