Please allow me to present you this more complete breakdown of my work history and life experience as a supplement to my attached resume.

I am currently seeking employment in the service industry.

The bulk of my employment career has been spent as a buyer of custom fabricated and electronic components. I have spent time as a production manager, inventory controller and shipping receiving manager and class A delivery driver.

I have traveled the world several times and lived in China teaching English to kindergartners. It was a fantastic experience.

When I returned to America, I spent 5 years as a server.

I recently moved back to San Francisco and hope to find a dining establishment that I can call home for the foreseeable future.

Thank you for your time and consideration,

Michael Robertson
