Objective

- I'm here today to tell you that I am looking for employment. I am looking to work in a warehouse or something along those lines with overtime available as I have 1 year experience in a warehouse.

Summary

- For the most part, my job history has been in the food industry with Disneyland. I had the position of expediter. The main objective while working there is do whatever to make the guests happy, so customer service was humongous. But, for the past year I got my forklift license and working in a warehouse. There's a learning curve to every job, but just like the others I will persevere through it and master the technique.

- La Brea Bakery (05/12 - 07/13)
Opened at 6am. Record and stock merchandise in an orderly fashion. Make sandwiches, salads, parfaits, and all of our bakery items were perfectly displayed once we opened the doors. Than I would take the food out to the tables where I would greet the guests and make sure their order was correct.
