Dear Hiring Manager,

I would like very much to be considered for the position of general laborer at your organization. I feel very strongly that my background and experience would make me a perfect fit for this role.

For the past 10 years, I have been working in various general laborer positions. Specifically, I have worked on a wide range of projects from home repairs-maintenance to remodeling and building and construction of pre-fab apartment complexes from the ground up . My skills include the use of; forklifts, wet skills saws, pouring concrete, welding, and plumbing. I have a key understanding of project management and know how to handle job assignments responsibly with little or no supervision. I can collaborate with and work through others as a team player and possess a can do attitude with a little common sense that makes me creative and resourceful at finding workable solutions to assignments. I take pride in my work initiative to fulfill the need or role as a competent/productive hard worker.

I am attaching a copy of my resume for your review and am looking forward for an opportunity to meet with you personally to discuss my background in greater depth and how my skills and experience can be a benefit to your organization. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Jermaine Gonzales

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to verify that Jermaine Gonzales volunteered with the St. Anthony Foundation Dining Room from June 6, 2015 to January 7, 2016, working approximately 30 hours per week.

The Dining Room has a fast-paced, high-volume kitchen serving a nourishing, hot meal to homeless and low-income individuals in San Francisco's Tenderloin District. Volunteers such as Jermaine work in an employee-type role, performing a variety of duties such as food preparation, unloading and putting away deliveries, dishwashing and cleaning, while maintaining safety and health standards.

During Jermaine's time with the Dining Room, we found him dependable, reliable and conscientious in his work. He was always on time, got along well with staff and other volunteers, and pitched in whenever extra help was needed.

Without the help of dedicated volunteers like Jermaine, we wouldn't be able to provide more than 2,400 meals each day to our brothers and sisters who are hungry. Jermaine's sensitivity and care helps to contribute to an atmosphere of warmth and compassion. We appreciate his generosity and the gift of his time.

Sincerely,
