PROFILE OF QUALIFICATIONS

Dynamic, detail oriented, cool headed, competitive, investigative, and professional with outstanding communication skills describe my core attributes. Couple those developed qualities with my industriousness, punctuality, and ability to work effectively under stressful and demanding situations and you have a viable individual that will contribute substantially to an organization and the people it serves. Although those traits are noteworthy, it was more important for me to acquire experience in selling/service and operational functions in order to achieve total business success. These are the major capabilities, strengths, knowledge, and experience I have to offer your company.
