Food Work Experience

2008 to Present – Concession Manager – Legends at Angel Stadium

Responsible for set-up, running and breakdown of food stand that sells $ 4000 to $13,000 of business per game. Ensure that all employees (6 - 20) are performing all tasks necessary to prepare the stand for our customers, that we have all the necessary food and other supplies to sustain us through the event and oversee the cleaning and breakdown of the stand at the end of the event. Also troubleshooting any stand or customer problems and handling the cash from start to finish.

I was the 2015 Concession Employee of the Year.

2003 to 2007 – Suite Attendant – Aramark at Honda Center

Responsible for setting up and cleaning up the suites for the clients including chafing pans, linens, glass and dinnerware and all food and beverages. Also responsible for taking and delivering food ordered day of the event. I also worked occasionally at the Grove of Anaheim for buffet and dinner service.

9/1991 – 6/2000 Rykoff-Sexton - R&D Food Scientist

I worked developing new products, as well as improving the quality or cost of existing products for. I would assist other food scientists in other areas of the plant with developmental work. Rykoff-Sexton produced a variety of food items from oils and shortenings, to mayonnaise, salad dressings and barbecue sauces. I also worked with our sales force providing information about the products as well as how to demo them for customers.

Other Work Experience

7/5/17 to Present – Part time Accounting Services Specialist – Xdimensional Technologies, Inc.

Xdimensional provides internet based software for the insurance industry, which includes an accounting program. I perform various accounting services for our clients including processing the commission statements from the carriers, such as AAA, reconciling their bank statements and employee payroll.

9/2011 to 3/29/17 – Executive Assistant/Office Manager/Paralegal – Law Office of Julia A. Kemp

It is hard to encapsulate in a few words the numerous and varied tasks I was required to perform in a conscious effort to meet the demanding and ever changing needs of our clients. My attention to detail, resourcefulness, ability to switch gears quickly and most importantly doing everything in my power to ensure that each client's case was handled efficiently and professionally demonstrate my desire to always do my best.

2000-2010 Obtained a teaching credential and worked as a teacher before being laid off.
