

Resume

Hello, my name is Nicole De Jesus, I am 18 years old and I am currently a college student reaching her goal of getting a business degree. My work experience started 11 years ago in a family own business of furniture. Throughout those years I have learned and know how to handle customer service and also know-how to handle money. I also throughout those years been a translater since in the family business I was the only one that knew how to speak Spanish. I am bilingual knowing how to speak both English and Spanish. I also love to work and always like to keep myself busy. Also, throughout those years I learned also how to do receipts, I am an 18 year that wants a job to know how business work, and also helps me to see and learn. I can't wait to work with you guys.
