Penn Foster High School is a global educational institution, offering a high school program through distance learning. The institution's goals and objectives are to provide quality nontraditional education for students who need an alternative approach to a traditional residence or classroom educational setting.

The Penn Foster High School Diploma is a proprietary program. You are solely responsible for ensuring that the program and program award satisfy the education requirements of potential employers, desired postsecondary institutions, and all other relevant agencies. Neither job placement nor postsecondary admission are guaranteed to graduates upon program completion. Students who attend and complete the program as an adult, age 18 years or older, who wish to further verify their earned award may request a Certificate of Preliminary Education according to the process outlined in the student catalog. The program name on file with the Pennsylvania State Board
